

Computer Ethics

Group Discussion Topics

Within your assigned groups discuss the following

1. As computer hardware and software provide new techniques for diagnosing and treating illness is. Some have stated that medical technology enhances the end of an individual's life while others have argued that it poses difficult challenges for terminally ill patients. Do you believe that medical technology helps or harms terminally ill patients?
2. Handheld devices such as iPods and PDA's make it easy for students to cheat. Do you think that these devices should be banned from the classroom? Why or why not.